Case study: How Grammarly for Education improved student retention

The challenge

Student retention

Faculty believed students' struggles with writing confidence increased the dropout rate.

Faculty spending too much time on writing mechanics

Faculty needed to help students improve their writing while not detracting from their core subjects.

The solution

Provide writing feedback when they need it most:

A 24/7 writing assistant helped students overcome writing fears, whenever and wherever they needed.

Help students improve their writing skills without taking time away from faculty:

In-line suggestions gave students real-time feedback to help improve their writing skills while allowing faculty to focus on content.

+1.7%

increase in student retention
since adopting Grammarly

“Grammarly helps student retention and alleviates the fear of writing papers by providing students with a virtual assistant where they are writing.”
